

Strong Improvement

Built in 1928, Strong Vincent High School has been a staple of the Erie Region for almost 85 years. When looking at the auditorium architecture one can't help but recall the old adage, "They just don't make 'em like they used to."

Previous renovations, aging architecture and outdated stage equipment meant that it was time for a complete auditorium restoration. The Erie School Board approved the renovation in 2010 and work began at the high school in April of 2012.

Pittsburgh Stage took part in the stage design and replaced the existing stage equipment with fourteen sets of state-of-the-art counterweight rigging along with three dead hung sets. The project also included the installation of a Da-Lite Professional projection screen.

Pittsburgh Stage also designed manufactured and installed the curtains for the gymnasium, stage and auditorium, including the dazzling drapes that are form-fitted to the newly installed arched auditorium windows.
